COMMON QUESTIONS

Straight answers.

Can't I just register a new domain for $10?

You can, but you'll get a longer, less memorable name with no brand equity. Short .coms like this simply can't be registered new - they have to be purchased from existing owners. That scarcity is exactly what gives them value.

Is $1,799 realistic for a domain this short?

Short commercial .coms - especially 7 characters or fewer with a power keyword like "shop" - consistently sell in the $1,500â€™$5,000 range. This is priced competitively with room to negotiate.

How does the transfer work?

All transactions go through Sedo's secure escrow system. You don't release payment until the domain is fully in your account. Fast, safe, and fully documented.

This one won't last long.

Asking $1,799 - open to serious offers. 7-character commercial .coms don't come back to market at this price.
